

HOW JUDGE ROBERTS
WOULD CHANGE THE HIGH COURT

RATED AMERICA'S MOST CREDIBLE PRINT NEWS SOURCE

U.S. News & WORLD REPORT

AUGUST 1, 2005

Washington Whispers

OUT LOUD

"He's good in every way, except he's not a woman."

Sandra Day O'Connor, retiring Supreme Court justice, on John Roberts, the man named to replace her

"You have to respect her. This is a first-class professional. And if Bill is 'first spouse,' it'll be one of the great moments."

Newt Gingrich, former House speaker, praising Sen. Hillary Rodham Clinton

"The beauty of daylight savings time is that it just makes everyone feel sunnier."

Rep. Ed Markey, on changing the law

"Meeting the president, maybe this really speaks more to the worldwide acceptance of the flip-flop."

Meghan Cleary, a footwear expert, on the controversy over members of the Northwestern University women's lacrosse team who wore flip-flops to the White House

Sources: Washington Post, GQ, Los Angeles Times, Chicago Tribune